FACULTY AND ADMINISTRATION

The student body of MHS has been fortunate in having an excellent faculty and administration. Their guidance and personal interest in each student as an individual has greatly encouraged the students' response to their efforts. The teachers have been more than willing to spend extra time with the students in helping solve their problems, and to find time and energy to sponsor clubs. Because of our fine faculty and administration, many memories will long be treasured by the students.

This years' members of the Board of Education were Mrs. George Kibbie, president; Mr. George Brown, Jr., trustee; Mr. Morris Stulberg, trustee; Mr. Joseph Schroeder, vice-president; Mr. David Foster, treasurer; Mrs. Ruby Henry, trustee; Mrs. John Twist, secretary.

ORGANIZATIONS

Organizations are a vital part of one's high school life. These extra-curricular activities instill enthusiasm and give the students a chance to show leadership and gain deserved recognition. By participating in these clubs, they can broaden their knowledge in various areas and feel more a part of the high school.

USHER CLUB

Head Usher, Pat Wilson, and Assistant Head Usher, Judy Noreyko.

Every spring several freshmen, sophomores, and juniors are chosen by the teaching staff for the following year's membership of the Usher Club. Basic to their selection are the qualities; reliability, personality, appearance, and character. The girls usher for school concerts and plays, Civic Theatre productions, and other civic functions. The girls receive one point for each time they usher. In order to remain eligible for membership, they must earn five points per year.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

One of the highest honors a student can receive while in high school is that of being chosen for the National Honor Society. Selection of these students is based on scholarship: juniors with a B+ and seniors with a B average. Character, service, and leadership are also considered by the faculty. New members are initiated by the present society at an impressive assembly. The society's purpose is to develop an individual fully in each area of his high school life.

POLITICAL CLUB

Political Club began in 1964 and many students have played important parts in this organization. During the school year the club organizes and sponsors interesting activities. This year Scott Romney, County Clerk Marcus Gray, and others provided fine lectures for the club. Each year members attend the Model U.N., go to various conventions, and visit the State Capitol.

DEBATE

Learning how to do through research, to analyze a problem, and to organize and present material in an interesting and persuasive way are just some of the values of debate. Participants in this activity gain the added benefits of speech training, poise, and the two most important assets of all: discovering two sides to important issues and gaining the ability to think accurately while speaking.

In order to make use of these skills, Marshall is involved in three leagues: the Western Michigan Novice and Yearling League, the Michigan High School Forensic League, and our own Twin Valley League. All debaters are given the opportunity to meet opponents from other schools.

Forensics follow debate, taking place during the second semester. Growing interest in humorous and dramatic reading, extempore speaking, declamation, original oratory, radio commentary, and multiple reading has resulted in a rapidly growing program.

PUBLICATIONS

This year, the Publication staff handled the production of more than 150 items, such as report card forms, programs and tickets for plays, concert, and athletic events, and the school newspaper. This task was aided by the use of the Multilith printing facilities.

JOURNALISM DEPARTMENT

As in the past, the journalism department was divided into three staffs: Dial, Red Squire, and Publications. The 22 members of the Dial and Red Squire staffs, as seniors, took either one or two hours of Journalism, and had a semester of journalistic training during the junior year.

Staff members of the Dial worked for approximately eleven months editing a book to record the events of the past year, while the Red Squires, featuring school news, were published by the bi-weekly newspaper staff.

The Red Squire staff pauses while Larry Maisner, photographer, takes a group shot.

BIBLE CLUB

Marshall High School has a fine, active Bible Club. Many students of different faiths are welcome to the weekly meetings. The Bible Club offers opportunity to learn more about the Bible and about Christ. At the weekly meetings, ministers from various churches in the area speak to the students.

VARSITY CLUB

To be a member of the Varsity Club a boy must have won a varsity letter in at least one major sport. A few of the projects of the club are: Sponsoring dances, running the concession stand at the home basketball games, a money-making pancake supper, and many other events. When "membership day" arrives, each member initiates the new boys into the Varsity Club.

GAA

The Girl's Athletic Association is a club organized to stimulate enthusiasm for athletic values. Girls receive points for participating in basketball, softball, soccer, tumbling, and archery. Each winter the GAA stages its glamorous formal, high-light of the year.

SECRETARIAL CLUB

Members of the Secretarial Club work industriously learning their skills.

Secretarial Club is open to students interested in office work. Each member must enroll in at least one year of shorthand. The club tries to encourage interest in and knowledge of new areas in this field. The girls sponsor parties, dances and dinners to raise money, and enjoy demonstrations of style and appearance for secretaries at their monthly meetings.

Mary Costa, president; Jannette Farmer, vice-president; and Mrs. Rhinehart, sponsor.

LIBRARY CLUB

Organized for students interested in books, this club provides the opportunity to learn more about the way the library works. Aided by Miss Bullock and Mrs. Goodwin, members gain experience in library procedures and learn the basic fundamentals of library techniques.

PEP CLUB

The Pep Club's purpose is to promote school spirit at basketball and football games. The members work many hours after school making clever posters, a good-luck teepee, and booster-buttons, keeping enthusiasm high throughout the year.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Mr. Roy, sponsor; Jeff Venn, vice-president; Betsy Huggett, secretary-treasurer; Dave Reed, president; John Begg, parliamentarian; and Mrs. Grundman, sponsor.

The Student Council, under the able guidance of co-sponsors Mrs. Grundman and Mr. Roy, is a function of the student body made up of representatives from the four classes. This year the Student Council undertook many projects in service to the school. These projects included working with the faculty on an exam schedule; sponsoring the Holiday Hop, Homecoming week, and a clothing drive; and many other small but important tasks for the student body.

CO OP CLUB

Barb Tanner, treasurer; Mary Lou Waggott, secretary; Gene Pettit, parliamentarian; Jeff Clee, president; and Tom Carroll, vice-president.

Tom Carroll and Gary Hoover, c o-op members, work hard at their jobs.

Co-operative training is a fairly new program at M.H.S. The group sponsors dances to raise money to have a graduation banquet. The members of this club are associated with area employers and work part-time to learn about a field of employment.

FRENCH CLUB

The objective of the French Club is to interest students more in the French language and French tradition. During the year Le Cercle Francais sponsored dances and hosted French Clubs from other schools in the area.

LATIN CLUB

The Latin Club provides many activities to inspire more interest in Latin backgrounds and to encourage students to study the "dead" language more thoroughly. A banquet in real Latin style is their highlight.

Bill Bossard, vice-president; Sue Oren, secretary-treasurer; Miss Wilson, sponsor; and Phil McKelvy, president.

SPANISH CLUB

Spanish Club's purpose is to explore the Spanish language and customs. They meet once a month, many times with native Spanish-speaking people as guests. The club is open to anyone talking, or having taken, the course.

Spanish Club members Debbie Smith, Ellen Burns, and Ruth Harris enjoy themselves at one of their meetings.

Mary Lou Harris, secretary; John Ramos, president; Mrs. Martens, sponsor; Dave Meza, vice-president; and Judy Trapp, treasurer.

ART CLUB

The Art Club members meet officially once a month, but every Thursday evening they open the art room for students to work on individual projects. Part of the club's purpose is to encourage talent and interest in art.

Gail VandyBogart and Cindy Rutherford work on a piece of art during an Art Club workshop.

FFA

The Future Farmers of American promote the interests of the students in agriculture. FFA members take part in field trips and conduct projects to improve their farming techniques. To take part in this organization, a student must be enrolled in agriculture and be acceptable to the other members.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS CLUB

Formed only two years ago, the Industrial Arts Club's purpose is to understand industry. Students involved in the club keep busy by doing shop work. They visit surrounding production plants in Albion, Kalamazoo, and Battle Creek. The members work on individual projects which help them to understand industry even better.

FHA

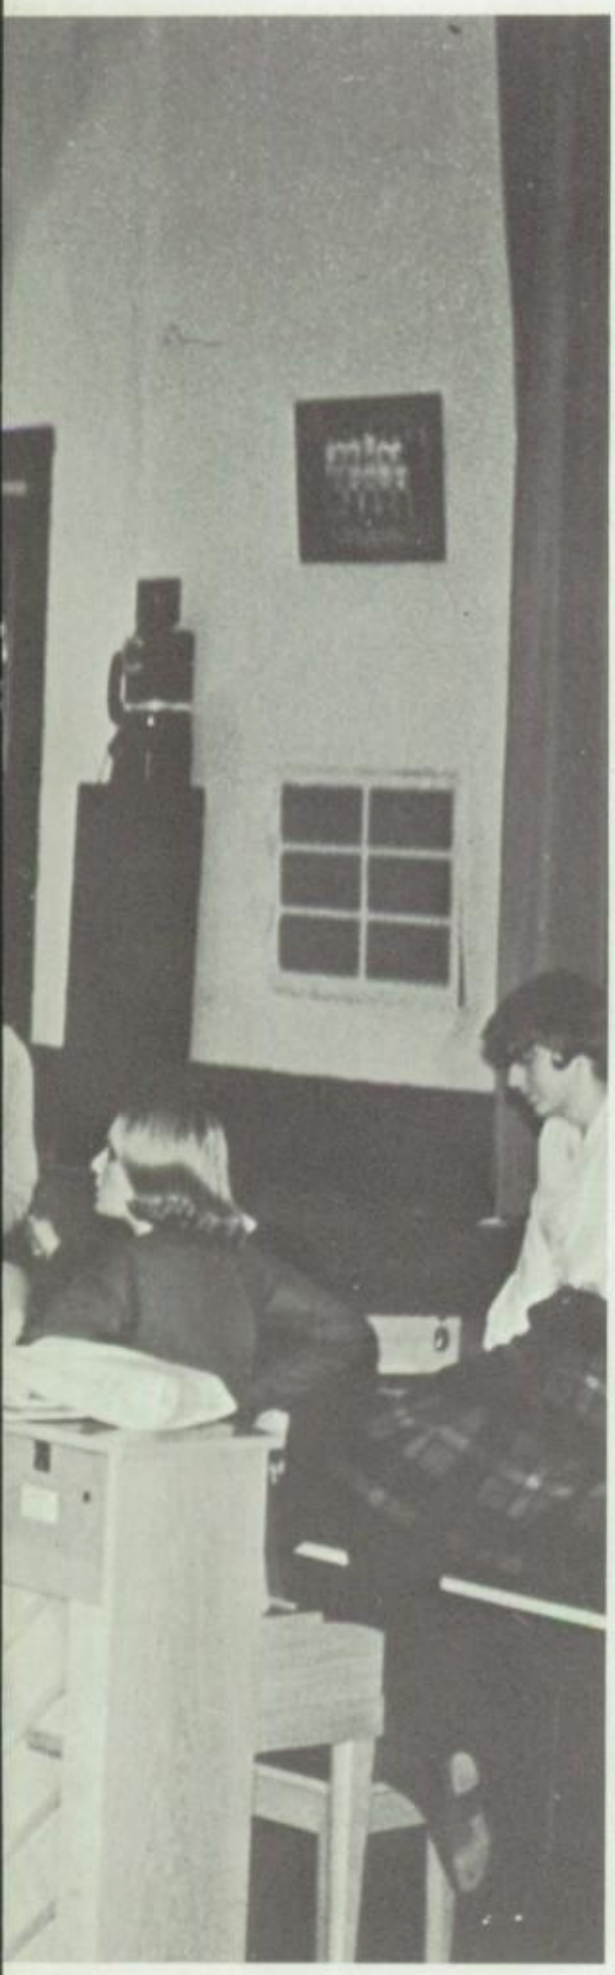
Future Homemakers of America is a branch of the national association whose aim is to help girls prepare for the best possible home life. To be eligible for this club, girls must have completed one year of homemaking. The girls raise money by selling candy. They entertain their mothers, serve luncheons, and stage colorful holiday teas.

FHA girls enjoy working together on many worthwhile projects.

ENTERTAINMENT



Entertainment is an important part of school life as a parallel to academic classes, and MHS had many extracurricular programs for both the student body and the citizens of Marshall. In addition to the dances held almost every Friday night, the more formal occasions came with the G.A.A. formal and the J-Hop. There were many concerts put on by the bands, orchestras, and choirs, and two class plays presented during the year. All of these events combined to make our school year well supplied throughout the year.

On February 13, 1965, the juniors presented "The Many Loves of Dobie Gillis" under the direction of Miss Katherine Burlingame and student director, Diana Tolan. "With a cast of thousands" the juniors performed their annual play before one of the largest audiences ever to attend any class play at Marshall High School.

The play revolved around the love affairs and problems of Dobie Gillis, a senior at Salmon P. Chase High School. The most humerous characters were Stella Kowalski and her Schottische Five. Stella was the happy-go-lucky, able-bodied leader of the questionable, comic band made up of five of the most unfeminine women imaginable.

Besides Stella and her crew, the audience was also introduced to Limbo Lamb, the most glamorous and popular movie star of the time. She came to make her appearance upon being told that Life magazine was covering the dance. After finding out it was all a lie to get her there, she attempted to leave and thus put Dobie's honor and character at stake. However, poor Limbo did not count on Stella stopping her. By the time, the masterful band leader was done with her, she was more than willing to stay and make her appearance.

Everything turned out for the best in the end, and the dance was the best in the history of the school.

A stage with no scenery created the atmosphere for this year's senior play, "The Remarkable Incident at Carson Corners." Presented on November 20, 1965, it depicts a mock trial of a man accused by the high school students of murder. As the trial progresses, the actual guilt shifts from the accused janitor to include many of the more prominent townspeople. Under the superb direction of Miss Burlingame and student director Diana Tolan, the play was a complete success.

DANCE INFORMALS

Informal dances were held each week following the games in the high school cafeteria. Each week they were sponsored by different clubs or organizations to earn money for their yearly activities. To add variety, various bands from the area often played. Sometimes the dances were transfered to the gym where a soc-hop was held with D.J.'s often in attendance.

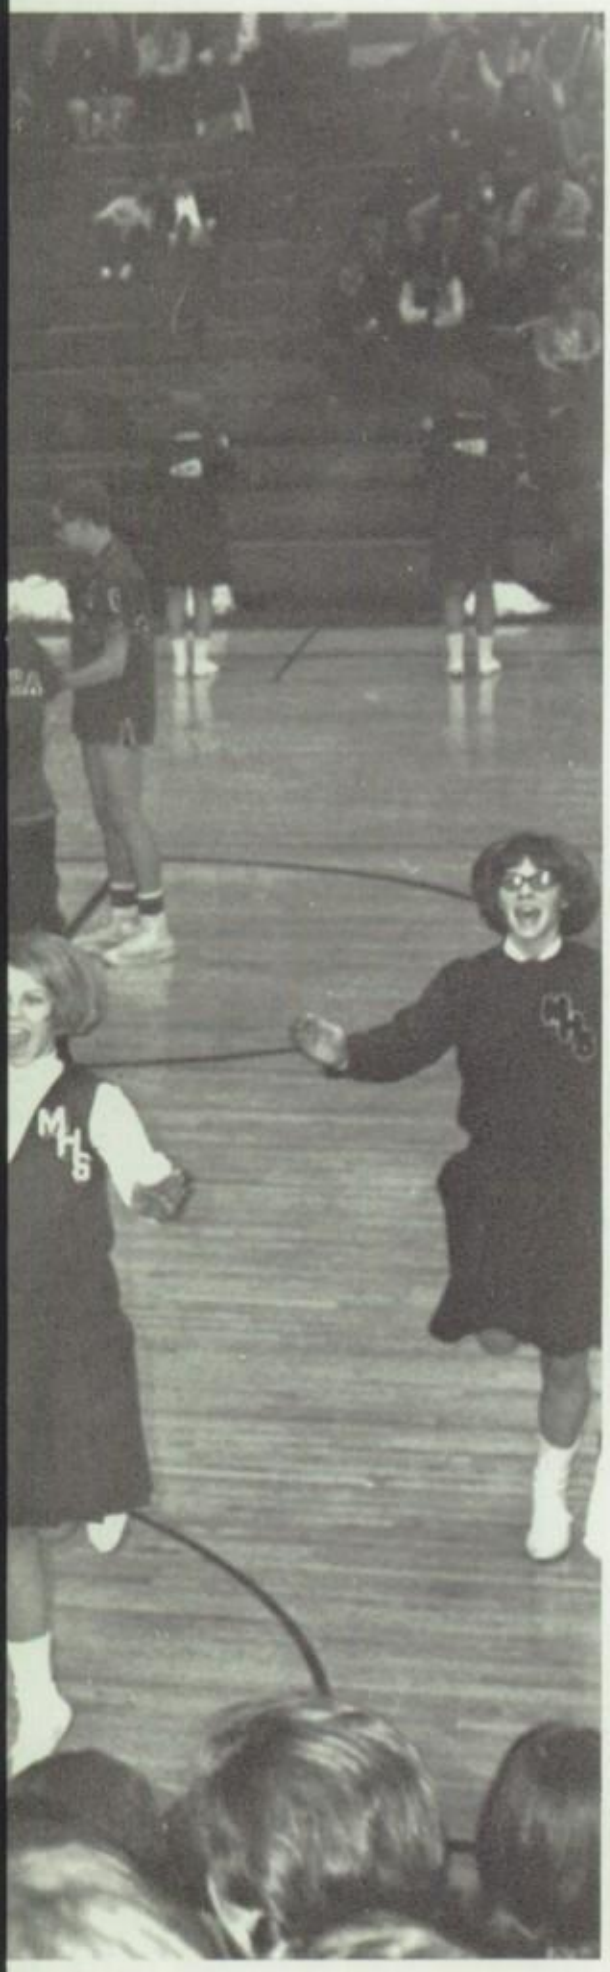
ATHLETICS



Athletics are an intrinsic part of high school life. They provide a challenge and satisfaction for the participants and are something that most students can identify with, cheer for, and live for.

MHS this past year has had a fine athletic season. Football, cross country, and basketball finished high on the Twin Valley ratings. It is hoped spring sports will do as well as in previous years.

Coaches Washburn and Martens gaze intently at the play on the field.

This year MHS had a successful football season with a total of five wins and three losses. The main factor behind the fine season was the unity and total effort of the team.

This year the coaches used two captains, a new pair for each game, and at the end of the season, the team elected two honorary captains. Also it was the initial year for an honors system. Players were awarded stars for a pass interception, for a recovered fumble, or if they were named Redskin of the week.

The special award winners and their parents: Bob Ulrich, most valuable; John Ramos, oil can award; David Hagerty, most improved player.

Harry Crandall sees day light, but is tripped up by a Pennfield linebacker.

HOMECOMING 1965

Homecoming 1965 was initiated by the announcement of the queen and her court. The week preceding the Homecoming game was filled with numerous activities. Thursday night a snake dance was made from the high school to the athletic field. This was followed by the traditional bonfire and pep rally. Thursday and Friday school was not held because of MEA Institute. Consequently there was no hoe-down day or pep assembly. Friday afternoon an assembly was held in the gym. Jackie Beavers and the Continentals provided entertainment and the cheerleaders did a fine job of boosting school spirit.

After the assembly classes pulled in the tug-of-war, with the Freshman class coming out the victor. Friday Redskin fans kept a vigil in the teepee, camped in front of the bank. Friday night the Homecoming parade was held. Included in the parade was the band, the Queen and her court, and the class floats. The classes had been working industriously on the floats during the past week. The game was played by rain but our players made a valiant effort only to lose to the Coldwater Cardinals, 7–0. Homecoming was climaxed by the semi-formal dance held Saturday night in honor of the Queen and her court.

The queen and her court and their escorts. Allison Twist, escorted by Jack Hartman, Yvonne Carr, escorted by Brian Burns, 1964 Homecoming queen, Chris Fisher, escorted by Mike McLain, 1965 Homecoming queen, Sue Chapman, escorted by Bruce Cook, Ann Mosier, escorted by Jim Walters, Geri DeVine escorted by Dan Metzger.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Bruce Martens, the cheerleaders have done an exceptional job in promoting and encouraging school spirit. Long hours of practice contributed to the squads' fine performance. The cheerleaders worked diligently at the pep assemblies and concentrated on the promotion of good sportsmanship and school spirit.

The 1965-66 basketball team, under the coaching of Don VanderGeest, had a very successful season. This outstanding season ended with a 14-6 record. The Redskins made an effort for first place but due to two unfortunate losses, placed third in Twin Valley. The members of the squad put forth great effort and worked together well as a team. The student body of MHS was proud of the team and Coach Vander-Geest during the entire season.

Marshall's golf team, under the guidance of Coach Don VanderGeest, is looking forward to a productive year in 1966. With three returning lettermen, the remainder of the squad will consist of upcoming novices. The team has good chances of attaining the state finals, as it did last year, with returning experience and early spring practices two major contributing factors. This year looks bright for Coach VanderGeest's team, with many new golfers filling the positions of graduating seniors.

The MHS tennis team is entering this season with eighteen straight wins in the past two years. Last year was the team's finest year as they placed second in Twin Valley.

The returning lettermen are Dave Heatherly, Bruce Cook, Ray Crull, Tom Atkins and Jim Walters. Another successful season is dependent on these lettermen and new players for Coach Burt O'Dell's squad.

Marshall placed second to Sturgis in the Twin Valley Conference and third in the regionals. Further showing the ability of the 1965 Cross Country team was the honor of placing 16th in state competition.

Alan Stulberg gains on Tony Presecan, with Raul Herrera trailing from behind, in the time trials.

TRACK

The eyes of the spectators are on Lynn Glenn as he vaults for Marshall.

The pole quivers as a Marshall jumper clears six foot.

The Marshall thinclads placed second in the Twin Valley Conference with Albion placing number one. They won six dual meets and lost one. While losing some good athletes, the team retained good experienced squad members.

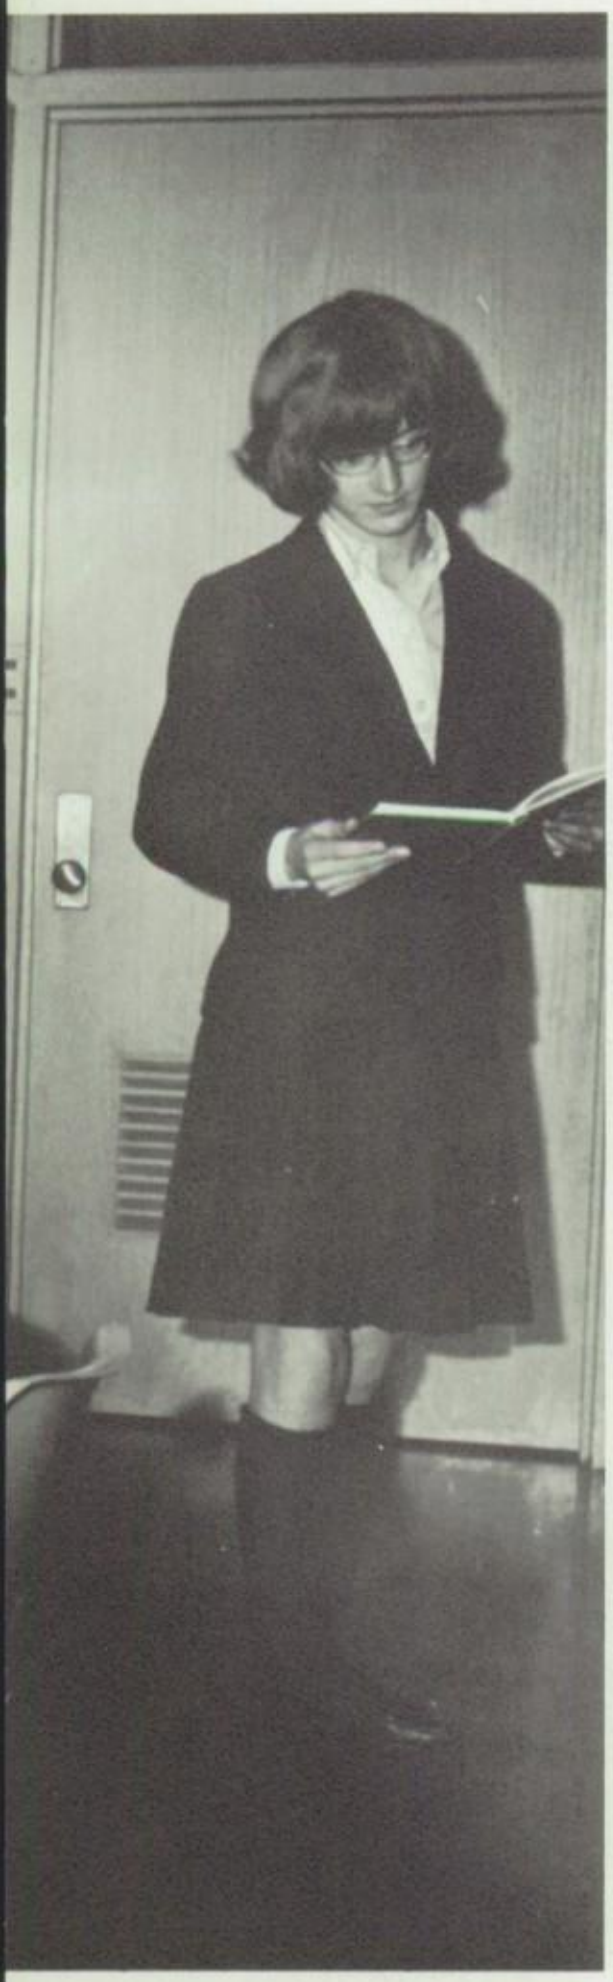
For the fourth straight year the Marshall Redskin baseball team won the Twin Valley championship. This was the eighth title won since 1949, under the coaching of Mr. Joe Cooper. Coach Cooper has had a total of 204 victories and only 81 losses.

Mr. Cooper was assisted by Ivan Fleser who gave special guidance to the pitchers.

Players given all-conference recognition were: John Ramos, Larry Taylor, Ed Crull, John Schneider, and Mike Kelly.

JUNIOR HIGH



Junior High is very important. The students are no longer elementary children; neither are they high school students. They are different from either of these, therefore, a special school, the junior high is provided for them. As they enter seventh grade they are now ready to shoulder responsibilities like young men and women.

Grades 7 and 8 offer many exploratory experiences. The students suddenly begin looking for new worlds of knowledge to conquer, matching their abilities and aptitudes with new opportunities for growth, the better to understand the environment in which they must learn to work and prosper.

FRESHMEN

In this first year of high school the freshman is exposed to many new experiences: he can participate in many new activities and is allowed to make independent decisions for the first time. At first the "frosh" may be overwhelmed by these new freedoms and privileges, but he soon accepts them as part of becoming an adult. With their goals set high, they begin to take part in athletics, dances, clubs, and the other school functions that make up the high school world.

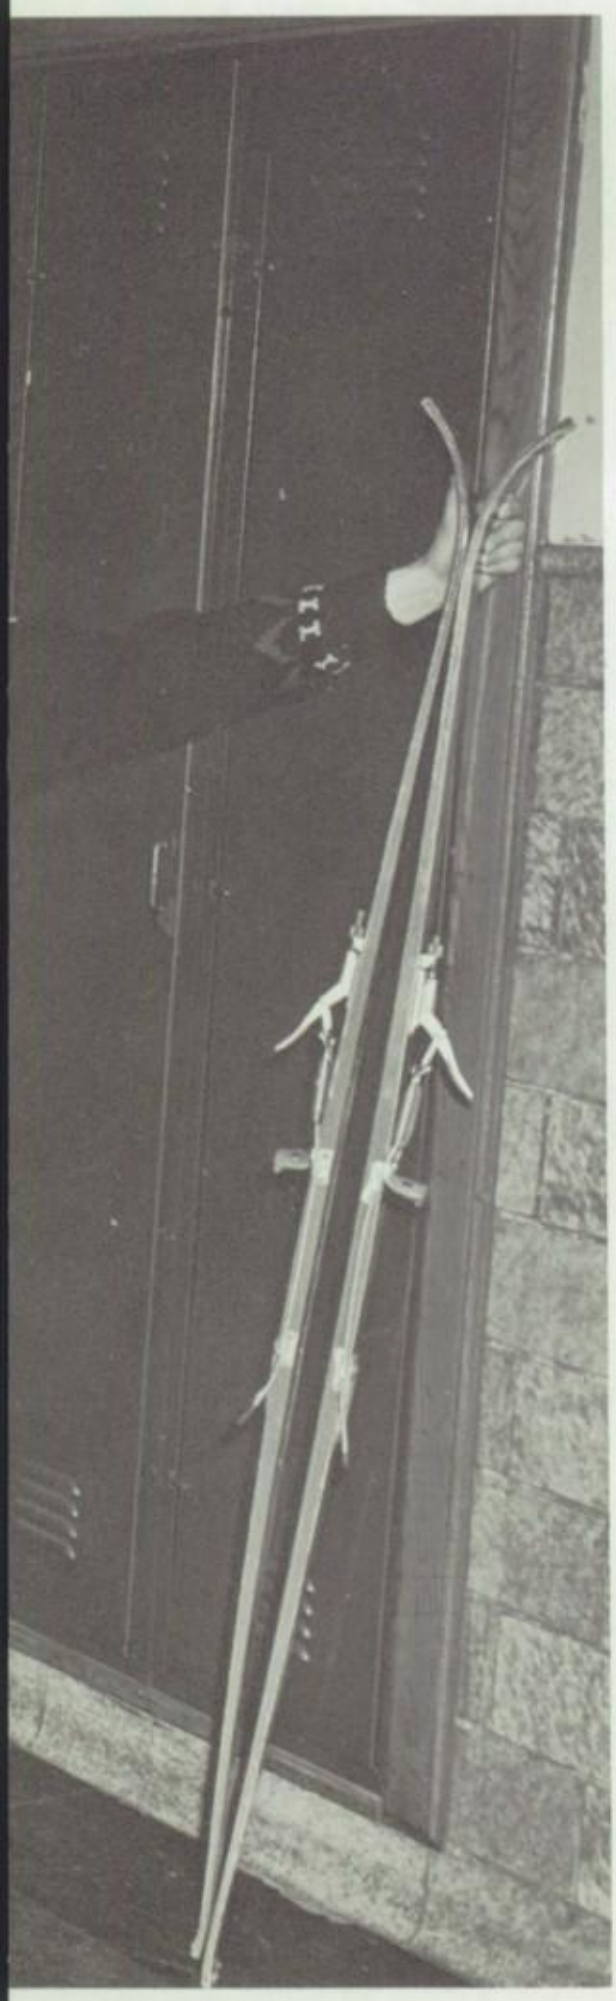
SOPHOMORES



Sophomores launched into their second year of high school with much enthusiasm and continued their efforts to make profits for their class treasury. Most of the profits came from working on the "Puff Ball" at the athletic games during the football season. In the spring they chose their class rings, and began thinking of the excitement that would come with their junior year.

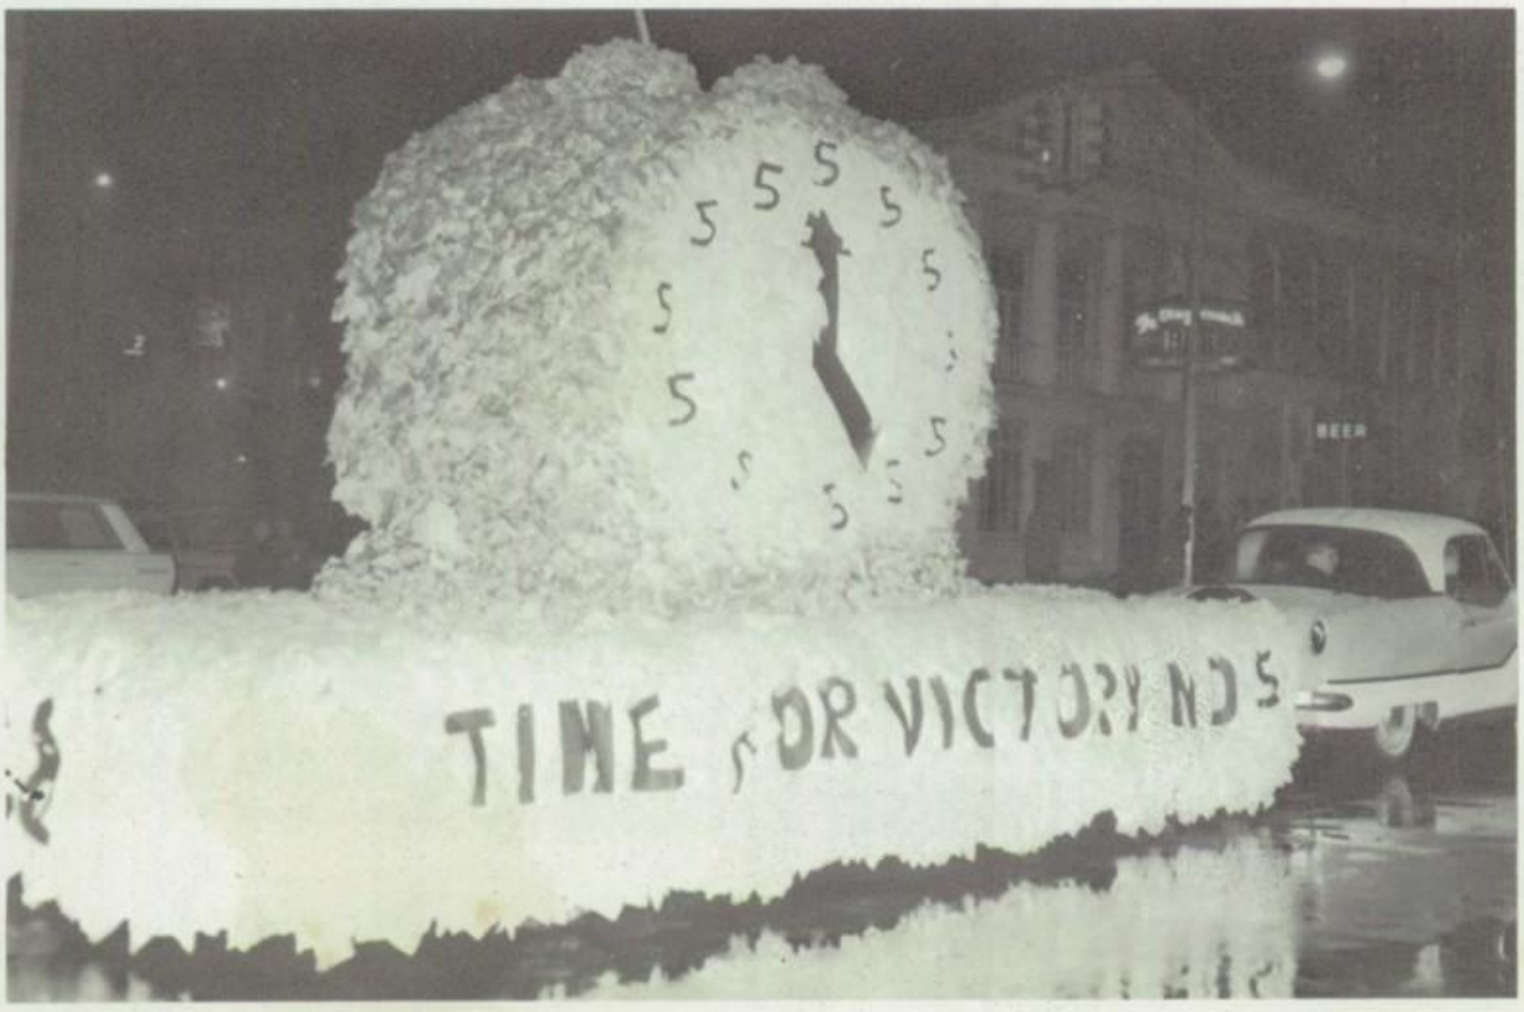
Remember when . . . ?

Sophomores working hard on the GAA Formal.

Class sponsor, Mr. Davis, with Tim Banfield, president, and Dale Hopkins, vice-president.

The sophomores were active in the 1965 Student Council elections.

Sophomores take first place with their winning float.



JUNIORS

The junior year in high school is one filled with many activities. In order to increase their class treasury, a magazine sale is held. In February, with great enthusiasm, they put on their first class play, "Charley's Aunt." With the money earned from these ventures they present the annual J-Hop for the seniors in the spring.

SENIORS

Graduating from high school is the goal that all students strive to attain as they begin their growth from novice freshmen into confident seniors. However, graduation signifies more than just the attainment of a goal; it represents the end of a period of worthwhile study and achievement and a beginning of a new adventure in life.

Behind are the fond memories of grade school, junior high, and high school. Ahead are numerous decisions that will affect our lives and the lives of those around us.

High school life is a part of the past . . . Remember it well . . .

TOWN HALL

ADVERTISEMENTS

With true perspective into the future, the Marshall businessman knows how very important the youth of today is to him and his business. Through his investment in the advertising which is to follow, he is investing in Marshall's young people, who will be the leaders of tomorrow.

Through their interest and support of all phases of Marshall High School life, this Dial was made possible.

Local businessmen, such as Mr. Jack Twist, aided us greatly by purchasing advertising space in the Dial from Tom Bischoff, business manager.

Mr. Robert Beller, local photographer, made many of the pictures in the Dial possible through his close work with Larry Maisner of the yearbook staff.

Mr. Robert Stechschulte, Edwards Brothers consultant, goes over yearbook plans with Mr. Haefele, Journalism advisor, and Nancy Monje, editor.

On behalf of the Marshall High School Dial staff, I would like to extend my appreciation to all those citizens and businessmen whose cooperation made this yearbook possible.

Nancy Monje
Dial editor

"Life is only what you make it" is a true statement to be sure. And what you, the 1966 graduates of Marshall High School, make of your lives will perhaps be the destiny of our country. We sincerely wish each of you the very best of luck, knowing that you will in turn do your best to make America forever known as the land of the free and of unequalled opportunity.
